

WERE HUNG ON SAME GALLOWS

Marx, Neidermeier and Van Dine All Met
Their Death in Chicago This Morning.

NEIDERMEIER WAS FIRST TO DIE

Marx Followed--All Three Men Have Bloody Record of Crime Behind Them--Fought Hard
For Liberty.

(Special by Scripps-McGee.)

Chicago, April 22, 10:37 a. m.—As planned Neidermeier was hung first. He was led to the place where the gallows were erected and at 10:36 the trap was swung and he is now dying slowly. Marx and Van Dine will be brought to the gallows as soon as Neidermeier's body is cut down after being pronounced dead. He died without any signs of repentance and without accepting the Christian religion.

Neidermeier Cut Down

After Neidermeier's body was removed Jailer Whitman tested the rope for the second victim. He then returned to the chapel in the Debtors prison and escorted Marx to the scaffold. Marx walked unassisted and submitted quietly to be strapped. He was praying when the drop fell. He fell heavily and his body moved in convulsions for two minutes. Death ensued in six minutes. The priests prayed over the body until it was cut down.

Van Dine Prays

When Jailer Whitman returned for Van Dine he found him at prayers in the chapel. He bent his eyes to the crucifix and began his death march. He held his head erect to permit to adjustment of the noose. He was uttering a prayer when the drop fell at eleven-fifty-five. Death was almost instantaneous, his neck being broken.

The Last Night

Neidermeier, weak and pale from the double attempt at suicide, stubbornly refused to embrace religion, joking and laughing with the death watch and smoking cigarettes the greater part of the night, isolated from Van Dine and Marx his companions in crime, who were converted to the Christian faith and spent the night in peaceful slumber. These were the incidents that marked the closing hours of the automatic trio.

Eat Breakfast

Marx and Van Dine arose at six, ate their breakfast and at seven engaged in prayer. Mamie Dunn, Van Dine's sweetheart, called at the jail and left a clean, white, silk shroud. This was taken to the man's cell. The two men then spent an hour in the chapel with two sisters of mercy, praying and reading the prayer-books.

Neidermeier went to sleep at five and awoke at seven when called by Jailer Whitman. He asked to be let alone. Then he ate breakfast.

This Morning

At ten o'clock Jailer Whitman notified the condemned men to get ready for the end. Fifty policemen kept the curious crowds of thousands of men, women and children away from the entrance and the streets leading to the jail. A delay was caused by Neidermeier's refusal to permit the guards to escort him to the gallows. He was carried through the long corridor, thousands of prisoners shouting "hats off" as he passed. Neidermeier was pale and trembling. He refused to stand on the drop and was seated in a chair which fell with his body. Neidermeier's pulse was strong for five minutes and he was not dead until nine had passed. The physicians said he was conscious for several minutes after the drop fell and knew what was taking place.

Eight murders were committed by the youthful desperadoes known as the "car barn bandits." Neidermeier, their leader, before his execution, confessed to having killed five additional men whose names he did not know. All the crimes of the trio were characterized by the same absence of moral sense that is displayed by the beast of prey when it destroys a victim. None of them had pity or remorse. They practiced shooting with automatic pistols in order that they could slay with greater facility. Their professional skill manifested itself in displaying skill on human targets. Criminal annals nowhere have produced more soulless or pitiless monsters than these heartless boys. They were products of avarice and degeneracy. Each murderer had a drunken father. They grew up in Chicago's slums; restricted by poverty, whatever vestige of moral character they had destroyed by their own inebriety. They frequented "saw-dust" saloons where examples in crime furnished them early inspiration. They read nickel novels in a "boys' athletic club" and began their criminal course by stealing lead pipe from vacant houses. Van Dine, massive and gorilla-like, excited the admiration of his fellows by displaying strength. His great hairy paws were his pride. All that was murderous in his nature was appealed to by his companions' praise of his prowess. Neidermeier was lithe and active, feline in the stealthiness of his movements, and an unerring pistol shot. He was possessed of low cunning and ability to plan which made him the leader. Marx was tall, athletic and a good marksman. Neidermeier selected the others as his accomplices and prepared their exploits. Neidermeier served a term in the bridewell for a petty theft. On his release he went west. Upon his return he boasted of two murders and many successful robberies "out west." Two men were killed in Colorado Springs, Col., by highwaymen, who were never arrested. A section foreman was murdered for a silver watch and a few dollars. Neidermeier showed newspaper clippings of these exploits and told the others he was their hero. He showed them an "automatic" pistol and gave them money to buy similar weapons. It was agreed that they should go "into business" as highwaymen. If one was captured the others were to dynamite the police station and rescue him. A cowardly, slow-witted loungeer at the club, Emil Roeski, was taken into their confidence. He carried their weapons and tools when they ordered him to do so.

On July 9, 1903, before midnight, the gang held up a saloon at 1220 North Ashland avenue. Roeski entered and ordered a glass of beer. His confederates followed, pistols in hand. The saloon keeper and patrons fled. The robbers emptied their pistols at the fleeing men, killing Otto Rauber, a half grown boy.

Almost nightly thereafter the bandits robbed saloons and pedestrians until August 2, when they killed B. C. La Cross and Adolph Jensen in a saloon at 2120 West North avenue.

The bandits ceased operations until search for them had subsided. Realizing their danger they planned a "big job" and a "get-away." At 3 a. m., August 30, Neidermeier, Van Dine and Marx held up the street car barn at 61st and State streets. Frank Stewart, a cashier, had the day's receipts on a desk before him. Edmund and Henry Biehl, clerks, were assisting him in counting the money. James Johnson, a motorman, lay asleep on a bench by the door communicating with the employees' waiting room. Neidermeier approached a window a few feet distant. He thrust a pistol through a pannel of glass and emptied it at the three clerks. Marx rushed into the waiting room. Johnson opened his eyes to discover the cause of the noise and Marx shot him through the head. Van Dine, sledge hammer in hand, burst in the door of the cashier's room. Biehl staggered into a closet and hid there, watching the flow of blood from a wound and watching the robbers. Edmund lay on the floor on his face and feigned death. Stewart and Johnson were slain outright. The three bandits ran into the room, scooped up the $2,500 and escaped. They divided the money at daylight in a park. Before their departure from the city to escape the police, Van Dine and Neidermeier held up a suburban express and ticket office on the Chicago & North-Western railroad and failed in an attempt to dynamite the tracks so they could rob a train. The bandits fled from the city. Three months later they returned to rob other car barns. Detective John Quinn and William Blum learned that Marx had a pistol of the kind used by the car barn robbers. They found him in Greenberg's saloon, Addison and Robey streets, on the night of November 22. The officers discovered Marx by looking over the curtain of a side door. He stood by the bar holding a glass of beer in his hand, the other hand resting on the handle of a revolver that protruded from his pocket.

Quinn and Blum separated and entered the saloon, Quinn by the side door behind Marx, Blum through the front door, before him. On Blum's entrance Marx jerked out his pistol and leveled it at the detective. He heard Quinn behind him and wheeled, shooting the latter through the abdomen. Blum and Marx emptied their pistols at each other. The detective wounded the desperado several times and escaped unscathed.

Marx fell at his feet by a telephone. Blum kicked Marx's pistol from his hand, covering him and using the telephone to call for a patrol wagon. After three days' confinement Marx believed his companions deserted him, and he confessed to the numerous crimes they had committed. Van Dine, Neidermeier and Roeski were within a block of the police station waiting to dynamite it and kill the turnkeys, to carry out their rescue plan, when the papers announced Marx's confession. They fled to Miller station, Ind., and hid in a hole in the hillside. Their hiding place became known to seven Chicago detectives who surrounded the dug-out. The outlaws gave battle, fatally wounding Detective Driscoll and shooting Detective Matthew Zimmer through the temple. They made a dash to a nearby railroad track through the fullside of bullets. L. J. Sova, a brakeman, tried to prevent them from seizing a locomotive and was instantly killed. Van Dine and Neidermeier rode the engine to Liverpool, Ind., where their progress was stopped by a locked switch. They abandoned the engines and fled across corn fields under fire from a posse of farmers. Wounded and bleeding and numbered by the zero temperature to which they had been exposed thirty hours Van Dine and Neidermeier surrendered to the farmers as a posse of one hundred policemen, armed with Winchester, and determined to avenge the their comrades, arrived on a special train.

With the insensibility of moral idiots the prisoners boasted of their murders. The notoriety of the trial afforded them enjoyment. They recited, with purple pride, the details of their atrocious acts. Not until the gallows was hammered together under their cells preparatory to the execution of Louis Roeski on April 15, one week before their own execution did the bandits realize their impending fate. Van Dine, Neidermeier and Marx were sentenced to die together. Roeski was tried separately and later for the murder of Rauber. When asked if he had a dying wish Neidermeier replied: "Let me swing first so I can get to — first and kick that squalor Marx in the face when he gets there."

Van Dine is descended from a German family, having a patent of nobility gained by his ancestors serving in the fighting clan of a prince. They were rewarded by social distinction and a grant of land. Van Dine's impulses were due to avarice. Possessed of latent mental power he was an intellectual pervert. Neidermeier was an example of arrested moral development. Marx was mentally deficient. He had a man's stature and appearance but the mind of a mere animal. Roeski is misanthropic, with the skull and mental processes of an infant. The stigmata of criminal degeneracy was in the facial, cranial and chromic characteristics of each of the bandits. Noted criminologists say these perverted youths were foredoomed by parental conditions and all the influence of society could not avail against criminal impulses as strong as theirs. Van Dine and Neidermeier became devout members of the Roman Catholic church and derived consolation from the daily ministrations of the priest who accompanied them to the gallows and held a crucifix before their eyes as the caps were adjusted.

THE INFERNAL QUESTION

INDIANA MEN AT LEAVENWORTH

Three Bank Officials From Indiana
Begin Their Ten Years' Terms.

(Special by Scripps-McGee.)

Indianapolis, April 22.—Justus L. Brodick, president of the wrecked Indiana National bank of Elkhart, which failed for $612,000; W. L. Collins, cashier, and Walter Brown, a director, all brothers-in-law, are rushing across the country toward the United States military prison at Fort Leavenworth.

Brown may never reach the prison alive. He was unable to appear in court Thursday morning for sentence. He was ordered into court in the afternoon, however, and appeared weak and trembling. His physicians protested, fearing a total collapse, so he was not required to stand during sentence.

Ten Years for President.

J. L. Brodick, president of the wrecked bank, was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in the United States prison at Leavenworth, Kan.; W. L. Collins, cashier, was sentenced to six years. The judge, in sentencing Collins, took into consideration his services to the government as a witness and took the ground that he had been used as a tool.

Director Brown received eight years. Eighteen of the sixty counts in the indictments against him were dismissed. Sentence was on the other forty-two. In overruling the motion for a new trial, Judge Anderson said the prisoner had had a fair trial and the verdict of the jury met the court's full approval.

"I do not see how twelve men could have come to any other conclusion," said Judge Anderson.

Goes to Prison With Husband.

It was possible, he added, that Brown's guilt might be greater than that of the other three, but he regarded Brodick, as president of the bank, the most culpable. Brown's attorneys gave notice of an appeal, and asked the judge to send the prisoner away at once. The judge refused, however.

Mrs. Brown went with her husband to the prison to care for him on the trip. Mrs. Brodick bade her husband a tearful farewell at the hotel. Both have been constant attendants at the trials.

Thus tragically closes a struggle between men of wealth, influence and social standing, which, while in point of value at stake, it does not equal some of the Titanic wars of finance now attracting attention, in dramatic features, stirring situations and strong climaxes. It probably has a prior claim to attention.

A coaling station is to be established in the Aleutian Islands by the United States government. The navy cutter Saturn has received orders to proceed from San Francisco with her cargo of 1,300 tons of coal to Kyska, an island of the Rat group, in latitude 52 north, longitude 177 east, where the coal will form the nucleus of a supply that will be always available for vessels of the United States in that part of the world.

WASPS' NEST HAS BROKEN OUT NOW

The Result of the Capitol Fire Has Not Yet Been Felt in Madison or by the State.

(Special to The Gazette.)

Madison, Wis., April 22.—Governor La Follette has probed another wasp's nest by juggling with the loss at the capitol fire February 27 and the accounts of state officers. State Insurance Commissioner Heat has certified that he total loss to building and contents was $185,046.50 and has directed the state treasurer to credit that amount to State Superintendent of Public Property Bryant and debit the same to the insurance fund which exists merely to the sum of $6,000. Extravagant figures placed the loss at the time of its occurrence in the millions and later the governor issued a proclamation stating that the loss was $275,000. With practically no money in the insurance fund to meet a loss of $185,000, owing to the recent lapsing of the insurance on the building, the fact that the taxpayers are not relieved of any portion of the burden which must necessarily be increased by interest of the money so transferred. Capital city observers are prone to see only political motives in the move for effect in the midst of the hottest republican factional fight the badger state has ever witnessed. It is announced, however, that this money will not be used for rebuilding purposes at present but that the sum of $35,000 only will be used to place portions of the structure in condition for use, the ultimate action to be taken by the new legislature. The insurance commissioner bases his action on the provisions of section 3, chapter 68 of the laws of 1903.

Some weeks ago several crews from this city on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road were sent from this city to take charge of work trains on the new division of the St. Paul system to be opened for traffic May 10th, leading out of Rochelle, Ill., which is one hundred and fourteen miles long and runs through some of the richest coal fields of Illinois. Rochelle has been the headquarters for the temporary headquarters of the road and it is not yet known where the division end will be located. It is hoped that enough pressure can be brought to bear to make Janesville the division end. Rockford is the only competitor and everything now favors Janesville as the most central point. Many of the prominent shippers of the city have been approached and have endorsed the project and the local railroad officials hope that they can secure the division end in this city. It would mean thirty-five more crews would live here than formerly and it would also bring the city in direct communication with southern and western points.

CLAIM TITLE TO LAND IN HEART OF CHICAGO

Resident of Shawano, Wis., Means to Start Suit for 160 Acres of Ground, Worth $25,000,000.

Appleton, Wis., April 22.—A suit to recover property consisting of 160 acres in the heart of Chicago, valued at $25,000,000, will soon be started by Reuben Irish of Shawano, Wis., acting in his own interest and that of ten other relatives.

The land in question originally belonged to Gideon Irish, an uncle of the plaintiff, who purchased it from the government in 1838. It includes the site of the Montgomery Ward store, the Sherman house and a large section on Michigan avenue. Gideon Irish died in 1843 and his estate was never probated, the property passing into the hands of strangers, who paid the taxes. It is alleged that not one of the present owners can produce a warranty deed.

Reuben Irish graduated from West Point and was a colonel of the One Hundred and Seventh New York Infantry during the civil war.

In the circuit court at Carbonate, Ill., Thomas Vaughn, charged with an attempt at assault on Miss Eva Kavanaugh, a school-teacher, was convicted and given an indeterminate sentence by the jury.

NEW CHANG IS TO COME NEXT

Present Indications Point to the Fact That the Japanese Are Ready for Battle.

ONLY FIVE MILES AWAY TODAY

Russia Is Now Beginning to Feel the Need of More Money, It Is Said—Issue a Large Number of Bills Extra.

(Berlin, April 22.—It has become known here that Jacob H. Schiff, the New York banker, who at present is stopping in this city, has received important news concerning an enormous Russian war loan which is to be placed in the near future. Mr. Schiff said today that he did not see any reason why he should keep it secret that Russia is making great efforts to get American capitalists interested in this undertaking, but added that he felt confident that with the present conditions in the United States it would be impossible for Russia to get money from American sources. "There is, however," he said, "no doubt that France and Germany are able to lend the czar all the money he asks for and are inclined to do so. At the present time Japan is in no need of financial assistance, but should that country ever try to raise a war loan any reasonable amount can be raised within a very short time in the United States."

Are Very Close

New Chwang, April 22.—A messenger from the Yalu river reports that the Japanese outposts are near the Russian intrenchments, with large bodies of troops five miles distant. He also states that the Russians are fleeing north across the river in overcrowded boats, losing hundreds by drowning. The messenger himself met only a few of the Japanese, but they were reported to have shown themselves in force on various occasions, afterward disappearing.

Threaten Chinese

St. Petersburg, April 22.—According to reports published in the Russian press, Gen. Linewitch is keeping a strict watch on the Chinese troops. During the recent visit made by the general to Ym Kang he met a representative of Gen. Ma was designed to secure the observance of neutrality on the part of the Chinese as well as to protect the Hsin-Min-Tung railway, and requested the viceroy to tell him that it would be advisable to withdraw his troops from the railway a distance of at least 300 or 400 versts (200-266 miles), otherwise, according to Viceroy Alexieff's

After the Pilots

New Chwang, April 22.—The Russians have issued an order to the pilots of this port to refrain from assisting any Japanese vessels in the waters hereabouts. The pilots have been informed that any found guilty of violating this order will be treated as traitors. Foreign consuls here took the matter up, but the Russian authorities will not recede from their position.

INTEREST REVIVED IN COUNTY FAIRS

There Will Be Sixty-Nine in the State
This Year—Janesville Grounds
Leased for Farming.

All talk of a county fair here this year is futile. J. M. Bostwick, owner of the grounds, has leased most of the and for farming purposes. Of recent years interest in agricultural exhibits has been on the wane and last season there were only forty-four in the state. A revival seems probable this year as the state agricultural board has arranged for sixty-nine. The state fair will be held in Milwaukee Sept. 5 to 9 inclusive. One of the unique exhibits of the kind will be the fair held on the Oneida Indian reservation where everything shown will be the handiwork of the red men.

DIED LAST NIGHT AT COUNTY HOUSE

Mrs. Selma Anderson, Inmate Transferred from Racine, Passed Away After Brief Illness.

Mrs. Selma Anderson, aged fifty-nine years, died last evening at the county hospital after a short illness with the grippe. She was one of the inmates transferred from Racine at the time of the fire. A son from Racine arrived this morning to take charge of the remains. The interment will take place at that city.

According to Figures Compiled by the publishers of the 1904 St. Louis directory the population of that city has increased 37,208 within the past year. The figures for 1904 are 693,675. The calculation is based on the number of names in the directory, two and one-half being used as a multiple to determine the total population.

M. H. Walker, a native of Vermont and captain in the regular army, now in the Philippines, has instituted suit at Knoxville, Tenn., to contest the will of the late Robert Reed Swenson, founder of the Knoxville Gas company, who died two years ago. Swenson left an estate of over $500,000.

ALDERMEN ELECT DON THE TOGAS

CHOOSE MURRAY PRESIDENT AFTER FOUR BALLOTS.

THE MAYOR SENDS GREETING

Dr. Merritt Made Health Commissioner and J. H. Watson Re-elected—No More Gallery Talk.

One alderman moved that the clerk read the unanimous ballot for "Don the Togas." Blank; another repeatedly answered "here" when the eye and no vote was called for. But these harmless echoes from the lodge room were the only reminders that a brand-new council had assembled. There were no flowers. The election dated so far back that victory had lost its flavor to the partisans.

Mayor's Message.
Alderman Matheson was made temporary chairman. He presented with the compliments of the Jeffries Co. a new gavel to the council. After that the mayor's communication to his fellow officials was read. It was as follows:

"Owing to my serious illness I shall issue no formal message. The affairs of the city are in good condition, so far as I know. A person can obtain any legitimate information by inquiring at the proper department. We have no serious controversy upon the point of keeping the city honorable and its credit good, and it should be the duty of all city officials to expose wrongdoing if they discover it. The work of the city will soon be in the control of the council, a list of which I herewith submit and appoint for the ensuing year." In conclusion Mayor Wilson said: "I must not close this without thanking the city officials for many courtesies received by me during my illness."

Committees Appointed.
The appointments made were as follows: Finance: Alderman A. E. Matheson, chairman, W. H. Merritt, and E. J. Schmidley.

Judiciary: F. H. Jackman, chairman, C. W. Schwartz, and E. H. Connell.

Fire and Water: C. W. Schwartz, chairman, A. E. Matheson, E. H. Connell, W. H. Merritt, and E. J. Schmidley.

Highways: W. A. Murray, chairman, W. H. Merritt, J. J. Constock, F. H. Jackman, and J. J. Sheridan.

Lighting: J. J. Constock, chairman, W. H. Grove, A. E. Matheson, W. A. Murray, and J. J. Sheridan.

Sewerage: W. H. Merritt, chairman, A. E. Matheson, E. H. Connell, C. W. Schwartz, and W. A. Murray.

Schools: E. H. Connell, chairman, F. H. Jackman, W. H. Grove, C. W. Schwartz, and W. A. Murray.

Police: E. J. Schmidley, chairman, J. J. Constock, and W. H. Grove.

Licenses: W. H. Grove, chairman, F. H. Jackman, J. J. Sheridan, and W. A. Murray.

Parks: A. E. Matheson, chairman, Grove, Connell, Schwartz, and Murray.

Printing: J. J. Sheridan, chairman, Constock and Schmidley.

Public Buildings: F. H. Jackman, chairman, Constock, Sheridan, Murray, and Merritt.

Ballot on President.
After the list of appointments had been read Alderman Jackman moved that the council proceed to take an informal ballot on the office of President. The informal ballot resulted as follows: Schwartz, 1; Murray, 2; Connell, 3; Matheson, 1. The first formal ballot was the same and the second showed the following: Murray, 4; Schwartz, 4; Connell, 2. The third and final ballot resulted: Murray, 6; Schwartz, 4. Upon being declared elected Alderman Murray made a short address in which he thanked the aldermen for the honor conferred and said that he would endeavor to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

Attorney Pierce Speaks.
Alderman Connell moved that the council proceed to ballot on the office of street commissioner. At this juncture Attorney Charles Pierce stepped to the rail and addressed the council in behalf of the candidate, J. H. Watson. He said that he represented tax payers who on account of Mr. Watson's efficiency wished him continued in office. It was purely a question of business. No political element entered into the matter. As far as that was concerned it was well known that the speaker's politics was as a cipher with the rim lost. In the interests of the city he asked the council to vote for Mr. Watson. On the first ballot the vote stood: J. H. Watson, 6; George Palmer, 2; George Croft, 2. Alderman Grove moved that the council take a formal ballot and Mr. Watson declared elected. Motion carried.

Elect Health Commissioner.
The council then proceeded on motion of Alderman Jackman to ballot informally on the office of health commissioner. The informal vote resulted: Dr. Merritt, 4; Merritt, 3; Dr. Mills, 2; Buckmaster, 1. On the first formal ballot Dr. Walter D. Merritt received six votes and Dr. Merritt, four. The first named was declared elected. On motion of Alderman Matheson the clerk was instructed to cast the unanimous vote of the council for C. V. Korch as city engineer for the ensuing year. On motion of Alderman Jackman a similar ballot was cast by the clerk for C. B. Conrad as assessor from the east side, and likewise on motion of Alderman Connell for E. H. Davies as assessor from the west side. By similar procedure George Phillips was made janitor for the ensuing year.

Only Aldermen to Talk.
The rules of the preceding council were adopted for the guidance of the present body and the regular meeting was set for every Monday, commencing with May 2. The pass roll for April was presented and passed upon. Ald. Matheson addressed the council in behalf of a motion

Royal Courts of Europe.
If Americans knew as much as Europeans do about Cereal Coffee, they would drink the Knapp Malt Coffee as does the Emperor of Austria, the King of Italy and twenty-one Royal Courts of Europe. Twenty-five million pounds sold in Europe last year. Try Knapp Malt Coffee, then you'll know the difference. All grocers sell it.

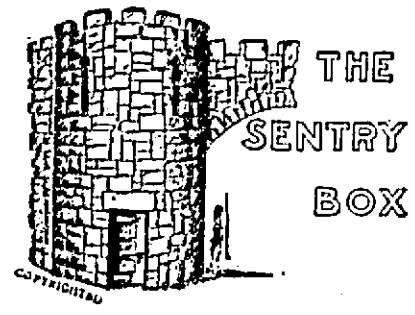

which he was about to offer. He said that frequently during the past year people had addressed the council while it was in session and that in every case he had felt that such proceedings were out of order. It would hardly be expected that a private citizen would be permitted to go before and address the legislature at will. This was permissible only in the committee room. He would like to feel that only the council and city officials were authorized to speak while the council was in session. If anyone desired to speak and there was no desire to prevent them from doing so, let the council resolve itself into a committee of the whole to listen to him, if deemed advisable. He therefore moved that no one except members of the council, the mayor and city officials, be allowed to speak without the permission of the council. The motion was carried unanimously.

Vote of Thanks.
The street commissioner was authorized by an order to dispose of five of the old oil street lamps to the golf club at a reasonable price could be secured. A vote of thanks was extended to the Jeffries Co. for the gift of the ravel. The session adjourned shortly after eight o'clock. Of the retiring aldermen only E. W. Lowell and Dr. Judd were present to watch the new members assume the harness. President Parker of the Municipal League was also a visitor. The audience was an unusually large one.

THE SENTRY BOX

The Peoples Voice Too Often Suppressed in Government Affairs.
So far as the SENTRY observed the most notable and significant speech delivered in Congress during the recess debate on the Post Office report which reflected on members for soliciting favors to constituents, was that of Representative William Alden Smith of Michigan.

This deliverance was important in many respects, but its most lasting title to consideration was the fact that it struck the keynote of a coming vital issue in high politics—the function of the direct representatives of the people in the scheme of republican government.

The orator called attention to a point too often forgotten, that the House of Representatives practically alone between the executive departments and the people, it is the only body of men high in governmental affairs, executive, legislative or judicial, for whom the people can vote directly. They cannot vote for the president except through electors who must be chosen in each state to express the popular will. They cannot vote for senators except through their respective State legislatures which alone are empowered by the United States constitution to elect senators.

Mr. Smith, proclaiming the emphasizing fact, asserted that the criticism submitted by the Post Office Department inaugurated a contest between the representatives of the people and the bureaucracy that has assumed to sit in judgment upon their official acts without political responsibility to any one, and denying to the general public information properly belonging to it. He said that the great menace to government efficiency in this country today, is the irresponsibility of executive employees, owing no allegiance to the people, but "with mandarin sycophancy" their political loyalty transferring their political convictions from one chief to another as rapidly as occasion requires, to selfishly cultivate their favor. He asserted that several departments are now filled with cliques and cabals who quickly surround every new man appointed as the head of a bureau or division and artfully lead him through the thorny path of administrative duty without permitting him to really ascertain his surroundings.

As a special grievance, Mr. Smith said:

"I want to say to this House that a Representative directly from the people has no standing in the national capital in the estimation of these political crusaders. I know a Department of this Government where they have issued orders to the elevator men that whenever a bureau chief gets on the elevator he shall be promptly delivered to his floor, whether Representatives are assisted to their destination or not. He may carry a Representative in Congress up and down the heights and depths of that building without stopping to let him off no matter how urgent his mission; and they do not even allow him mileage for what he travels."

Sometimes they perhaps be pardoned to the extent of the order, as it has been called, the hysteria of the occasion, but the orator undoubtedly touched a live wire in this comment, ing upon prevalent conditions. It is held by many that the augmented powers that have been assumed not to say usurped, but the senate and executive, are now exercised contrary to the spirit of our institutions. It is further urged that we must get back to original principles before we can work out the plan of the fathers in a successful issue. The SENTRY believes that we have been drifting away from that plan and must work our way back to it or lose our bearings in a pathless sea.

This is believed to be our only means of preserving a patriotism which is not merely chaste and elegant, but which has been purified of the dross of dogma and by-products of practical politics. There must be kindled the fires of a civic virtue that will burn without clinkers; here must be sought the heart and kernel of good government without the bark and shell.

Great Britain is called a monarchy. It has a king and a House of Lords. It is the supposed citadel of aristocratic privilege. But the British House of Commons governs the country. It exercises a power and maintains a prerogative greatly surpassing anything enjoyed by its corresponding feature in this country, the national House of Representatives. The British House of Commons practically elects the executive and removes it at will. It not only holds powers, such as our lower House of Congress claims but fails to do, but it builds up and tears down governments at its pleasure, thus dictating the entire administrative policy of the empire.

We can have nothing approaching this under our constitution. But it is manifest that one by one, many of the intended functions of the direct representatives of the people have been taken away from them. What good does it do the voters of the country to elect representatives every two years if, after organizing in Washington, those representatives are subservient to other forces beyond the direct reach of the wishes of their constituents? If the House of Representatives is to fill the place intended for it by those who framed the Constitution, it must assert its rights and insist on the dignity of its membership.

It is broadly intimated that the present Speaker of the House of Representatives is fully alive to the importance of these considerations and is determined to do his part in rehabilitating the important assemblage over which he presides.

BAD DOLLARS ARE PASSING CURRENT

The Wisconsin Telephone Company Finds Three in Its Coffers—Good Likenesses.

Counterfeit dollars are abroad in the land. A whole shoal of them is believed to have been unloaded in this vicinity within the past few days. Three have passed the observant eyes of collectors and desk clerks of the Wisconsin Telephone Co. office and have been on their way merrily out again from its coffers when it occurred that a similar fate will soon overtake their designers. The coins are said to be unusually bad ones because they are remarkably good. The handling is excellent and something better than vulgar lead has been used in their construction. Amateur money owners will find it advisable to scrutinize coins carefully before accepting them and may deem it expedient to part with them hastily to save their consciences.

JANESVILLE GIRL HAS HARD TIME

WAS HAZED AND TIED IN DORMITORY ATTIC.

QUEER STORY FROM MADISON

Miss Isabelle Menzies, According to Report, Is Severely Handled by Some Fellow Students.

Milwaukee and Chicago papers publish this morning the fact that another hazing has occurred at the university at Madison and that a Janesville young lady, Miss Isabelle Menzies, is the victim of the assault of fellow classmates. The accounts given differ materially. The Free Press and Record-Herald state that Miss Menzies was hazed because she gave way a prank played by her classmates upon Miss Meyer, the preceptress of the hall, while the Sentinel prints the following sensational story. Miss Menzies is a graduate of the Janesville high school and has many friends in the city who will be sorry to learn of the sad and disgraceful happening to her:

The Story.
It has just become known that the most severe case of hazing ever perpetrated at Chaboumaire hall took place Sunday evening, when the majority of the coeds having rooms in the dormitory were attending evening services in the city churches. Miss Isabelle Menzies of Janesville, Wis., was captured from her room and after a severe blanket tossing was carried to the attic of the building, where she was fastened to a beam and left alone and helpless.

Miss Menzies is the daughter of a well known resident of Janesville. This is her last year in the university and she is a proctor at the hall.

The Hazing.
The hazing is the culmination of a series of slight disturbances caused by a spirit of dissatisfaction among the upper class girls, and a tendency to disobey Miss Menzies. The girls are said to dislike her and means have been taken to show their dislike.

Last week a large number of old tomato and corn cans were collected and fastened together. Then marbles were put in them. One of the most daring sealed the fire escape and fastened the handle of cans to a fire platform of Miss Menzies' window, so the wind would catch them and the rattling was such that Miss Menzies slept little that night, and made an investigation the next morning in hopes of discovering the culprits.

Is a Proctor.
Miss Menzies is the proctor for the section of the building in which the affair took place, and as she has been troubled by the girls before, they supposed that she had given Miss Meyer the reason for the information as to who had hazed the section can form of disturbance, and carried out the plan.

Sunday evening the girls assembled stealthily in the corridor near Miss Menzies' room, and suddenly burst into her apartment. Finding her in bed and ill did not prevent them from pulling her out, and after fifteen minutes of merciless tossing, she was bound in the sheets, which were torn from the bed, and carried to the attic and left to herself, too weak to call for help or struggle free. After remaining in the attic for some time, she was released by a maid, whom one of the girls had told of Miss Menzies' plight.

Will Investigate.
It was reported that the matter will be taken to the head of the university, but at noon President Van Elke had heard nothing of it. Dean Birge was out of the city, and it is not known whether he has been informed of the hazing or not.

The principals in the affair could not be learned, but they are known to be upperclass girls, and from some of the best families in the state. Every means has been used to keep the matter quiet, but rumors were spread that General Rough house had been the victim of the scheme on Sunday. In fact so much so that the freshmen were frightened for fear that they would be seized and given treatment by the sophomores, and so retired behind barred doors.

FARMERS ARE IN NEED OF HELP

Men to Work on Farms Are in Great Demand on Account of Lateness of the Season.

With the coming of the warm days comes the usual demand for farm hands and farmers in this vicinity are beginning to make their wants known. The farmers are taking up their spring plowing, and a few days of sunshine and warmth is their earnest prayer. There is still a little frost in the ground and the plowing is not as easy as it might be. The lateness of the warm weather has held back the spring work considerably and now that it can be taken up every available man is being put to work and many of the farmers are using an extra man or two, if they can be secured. Several of the farmers have asked the local police of the usual run of men looking for work have appeared in the city and if they have are they anxious for farm labor. The wages to be paid are good, and there will be no cause for men being without labor from now on.

Bartenders' Union. The Bartenders' union will meet this evening at Assembly hall. Important business will come up for consideration.

AMONG THE WORLD'S WORKERS

News Notes From Various Sources of Great Interest to the Workingman.

Of the labor contests fought out last year it would appear that the unions had been successful in a large majority of cases. Of an exhibit of the union idea of unfavorable strike record the cigar makers' is taken. The total number of "difficulties" was 148, involving a total of 9,727 men. Only five were absolutely lost, involving 89, thus nearly 9,000 benefited.

By a referendum vote the Bricklayers' and Masons' International union has decided in favor of the death benefit feature, obtaining in many of the other trades unions. The new benefit will be $100 to members who have been six months in good standing and $200 for those five years or more steadily on the union's books.

The annual report of the New South Wales (Australia) labor commissioners state that the year has been a bad one for unskilled laborers, a condition largely attributed to the drought. Another factor in the depression was the return of some thousands of soldiers from South Africa.

At Lyons, France, 10,000 employees in the silk trades have struck work, their demands being for an increase in wages and shorter hours. Efforts have been made to effect a settlement.

Indianapolis enjoys the distinction of being the principal headquarters of labor unions. Five labor journals aggregating over 200,000 copies, are published, and the unions keep a deposit of upwards of $2,000,000 in the banks.

According to the report of the United States Commissioner of Education the average monthly wages of teachers for 1902 was $49 for men and about $40 for women. Less than 28 per cent of the teachers were men, or 122,392 out of a total of 439,596.

Fifteen railroads in the General Managers' association of Chicago, report the laying off of nearly 10,000 employees during the last three months.

A movement is on foot to bring the strike situation before Congress. It is urged that some radical legislation is needed to remedy the present evils.

F. H. BLODGETT MADE PRESIDENT

The Wisconsin Millers' Association Holds Its Quarterly Meeting in Milwaukee.

At a meeting of the Wisconsin State Millers' association held in Milwaukee yesterday, Frank Blodgett of this city was elected president of the association. Several matters of importance were transacted, among them being a determined effort to be made by the Wisconsin State Millers' association in connection with the Millers' National federation, of which the Wisconsin body is a part, to secure the passage of a bill through the next congress abolishing the London landing clause in all contracts for the exportation of flour to England. This was decided upon yesterday at the quarterly meeting of the association at the St. Charles hotel, Milwaukee. At present American flour is discriminated against, being subject to a fee equal to a cent a barrel for unloading. This fee is included in all contracts with steamboat companies and it is to eliminate the clause containing the tax that the millers are working. The last congress considered a bill of this nature, but it was lost by a small margin. S. R. Willy said last night that his committee probably would confine its work to the Wisconsin legislative delegation, while the national body would look after the interests of the mill at Washington.

The principal object of the meeting yesterday was to take steps toward building up the reputation of Wisconsin rye flour, which is considered the best in the country. Special invitations had been issued to all rye millers and most of the thirty men at the meeting were rye flour manufacturers. Secretary Lachmann of Neenah reported that his correspondence with the four railroads in Wisconsin, regarding desirable changes in differential rates was satisfactory and that the traffic men were willing and eager to assist in building up the rye flour business. Officers elected were: President—Frank H. Blodgett, Janesville; Vice president—J. P. Dousman, De Pere; Secretary—E. J. Lachmann, Neenah; Treasurer—Henry Mullerberger, Watertown.

Directors—The officers and H. E. McEachron, Wausau; H. W. Davis, Galesville; J. P. Horton, Grand Rapids, and S. R. Willy, Appleton. The next meeting of the association will be held in Milwaukee July 21.

How To Pronounce Hyomel.

King's Pharmacy and The Peoples Drug Company Tell of This Remarkable Treatment That Cures Catarrh Without Stomach Dosing.

"While all our customers who have used Hyomel agree that it is remarkably successful in curing catarrh and other diseases of the air passages," says King's Pharmacy and The Peoples Drug company, "yet there has been considerable diversity of opinion as to how the name is pronounced."

"Hyomel is pronounced just as if it were spelled 'high-one,' with the accent on the first syllable."

"A great many come to our store and instead of asking for Hyomel, tell us they want a package of the treatment for catarrh that we are selling on a guarantee."

"While we know what they mean, and all of our clerks will give them Hyomel, yet we want every one to know how to pronounce the name of Hyomel, so that they may run no chance of getting anything but Hyomel, no matter where they go."

"It is nature's true cure for catarrh at troubles. It kills the germs of this disease, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, and effectually drives all catarrhal poisons from the system."

"All the stomach dosing in the world can do no lasting good in the treatment of catarrh unless the nose and throat are free from catarrhal microbes. There is no stomach dosing with Hyomel; just breathe it."

"We have so much confidence in the value of the treatment, that we are selling it with the understanding that we will return the money if it fails to cure. All Gazette readers know that we do exactly as we agree."

THE JOSEPHINE GOWN

Almost elaborate and formal enough for dinner wear is this graceful gown, a copy of one worn by Josephine, empress of the French, in the days when she ruled fashion as well as France. The familiar short corset, with its broad sash, is well expressed in geranium pink crepe, to which the yellowish tinge of the lace lends a softening effect. There is an overdress arrangement draped from the shoulders which falls in pointed fashion back and front. The skirt portion has a circular flounce formed of alternate shaped strips of crepe and lace and the sleeves are loose and flowing from a shallow cap.

HEARST LOSES MASSACHUSETTS

Entire State Delegation is Instructed to Vote for Richard Olney.
Boston, April 22.—By a vote of 611 to 296 the Massachusetts Democratic state convention at Tremont Temple elected four delegates at large of Richard Olney's selection, and by a vote of nearly 3 to 1 instructed the entire state delegation of thirty-two to act as a unit and to vote for Olney at the St. Louis convention until he is nominated for president or his name is withdrawn by authority. Amid hisses and shouts from either side George Fred Williams, the national committeeman from Massachusetts, led the fight of the Hearst supporters against the Olney instructions and against the unit rule. He denied the right of the convention to pledge the votes of the twenty-eight district delegates and announced he would carry the fight into the St. Louis convention. The platform adopted contains only one plank—that the Massachusetts Democracy is for Olney for president.

Rheumatism

Is Not a Skin Disease.

Most people have an idea that rheumatism is contracted like a cold, that the damp, chilly air penetrates the muscles and joints and causes the terrible aches and pains, or that it is something like a skin disease to be rubbed away with liniment or drawn out with plasters; but Rheumatism originates in the blood and is caused by Urea, or Uric Acid, an irritating, corroding poison that settles in muscles, joints and nerves, producing inflammation and soreness and the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to this distressing disease.

Exposure to bad weather or sudden chilling of the body will hasten an attack of Rheumatism after the blood and system are in the right condition for it to develop, but have nothing to do with the real true causes of Rheumatism, which are internal and not external.

Liniments, plasters and rubbing will sometimes reduce the inflammation and swelling and ease the pain for a time, but fail to relieve permanently because they do not reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism because it attacks it in the blood, and the Uric Acid poison is neutralized, the sluggish circulation stimulated and quickened, and soon the system is purified and cleansed, the aching muscles and joints are relieved of all irritating matter and a lasting cure of this most painful disease effected.

S. S. S. is a harmless vegetable remedy, unequalled as a blood purifier and an invigorating, pleasant tonic. Book on Rheumatism will be mailed free.

TWO TRUE BILLS ARE RETURNED

PRISONERS BROUGHT BEFORE JUDGE DUNWIDDIE TODAY.

ONE ON A CHARGE OF PERJURY

Thomas Mulcairns is charged with inciting Little Rose Dulin to swear falsely.

This afternoon in circuit court the drag-net of the grand jury brought in its first victims. They were Thomas Mulcairns, charged with perjury, and Mrs. Jeannette Rice (Witham) charged with keeping a house of ill-fame.

Arrested in Bed
Mulcairns who is a night switchman on the North-Western road was arrested while in bed at his home in the fifth ward this morning. He was greatly surprised but made no demonstration. The true bill returned against Mulcairns charges him with persuading Little Rose Dulin, one of the principal witnesses in the O'Donnell-Grimm stealing case, to testify that she had seen another man with O'Donnell at the time the gloves were offered for sale at the Cochran house, whereas she had seen no such man; and to swear that she had obtained the gloves from a bag near the railroad track instead of at the before-mentioned house. On the charge for thus inciting the said witness to swear falsely Mulcairns answered "not guilty" and was arraigned for trial by the court. The punishment for this crime is from one to three years in state's prison. Mulcairns' bail was fixed at $1,500 and his trial was set for Monday. He said that he had no property but wished some time to decide whether or not he wished the court to appoint an attorney for him. It is probable that friends will sign his bail bonds.

Mrs. Witham Arraigned
The second indictment against Mrs. Jeannette Witham charged her with keeping a brothel and house of ill-fame. After the true bill found against her was read she wanted to know what the fine would be if she pleaded guilty. The court could give her no information on this score and she decided to enter a plea of not guilty and send for an attorney. The punishment for this crime is from one to three years in state's prison and the court fixed her bonds at $1,500. She has property and bail will undoubtedly be secured. The case will be tried before the petit jury in circuit court next Monday afternoon. There are a number of other warrants out but only two had been served at the time we go to press.

CONFESSES TO MANY CRIMES

A STRANGE LETTER RECEIVED FROM MILTON THIS MORNING.

IS THE WRITER INSANE?

Fires All Occurred, But the Thefts Mentioned Are Not Known to Have Been Committed.

Whether the writer of the following letter is suffering from mental trouble or whether what is written is true cannot be learned. The letter is dated Milton and appears on the face of it to be a confession from some daring criminal who desires the world to know of his deeds of daring. The letter is printed with lead pencil similar to the work of a child six or seven years old. The envelope is addressed in a fairly well formed hand.

No Knowledge
At Milton where the contents of the letter are from, was telephoned this morning the whole matter was doubted and it was thought to be the work of some young boy who had read of the car-barn bandits. The facts regarding the fires described are said to be all right, but the robberies reported are not known of. The letter follows:

The Letter
Milton, Wis.
I was caught last night in the act of setting Dunn Bros' store on fire and I was told if I would make a public confession and stop my meaness that I would be let alone. I am a mean man, but will say that I will never get fire to anything again, but I have been hired by a man of this town to do what I have done. I am a Milton man and have lived here several years. I first set the Chaney barn; then Goodrich barn, Chaney house, livery stable, Cottage hotel barn, lumber yard. These I did set but I was not connected with the Holmes fire. I was told that Chaney was a wealthy man and kept his money in his house. I was offered $500 if I would rob him, so I hid myself in his house a day and night and not finding anything I thought I would slip away, but when I reached the door a lady met me and asked me what I wanted and in answer I knocked her down, not wishing to harm her but wishing to make my escape unknown. I stole some money from Mr. Brown. It will be found under porch of his house. I have stole a good many things in this town, being connected in the Sunby shoe robbery. I also stole some things from the Chaney house. The money I stole from Cowan will be found near front porch. I marked the spot X with a lead pencil. The other things I left visible. Our motive in doing all this was to wipe out Milton and we intended to do it if I hadn't been caught. I know it is awful for innocent ones to have to suffer on my account but I could not give myself away. But I know this will stop the talk and raise suspicion from the innocent ones and I wish to ask all young men to take warning and never do as I have done. I know death will be my doom if I am given away, but I can only trust to my safety. I left the money I stole hidden near each house, expecting to get it when I received a large amount then turn it over to my man and receive my reward. My desire is to have this printed at once in the Gazette; also Milton Journal please copy. If any money is needed for publication please state at bottom of column and it will be sent at once.

Light in Darkness
The following from the pen of E. I. Sothern recently appeared in Janesville in "The Proud Prince" not long ago, has been published in Harper's Weekly:

"The time has come in that far faded land
Which we are taught death opens to our view,
When I, with tearful eyes, shall vainly sue
For the dear touch of a familiar hand
The look of eyes that ever understand,
The kiss from lips whose kiss and word are true,
Oh, grant me this—when I shall gaze
On loneliness, from that so distant strand;
If you should hear me in the hush of eve,
Breathe something tender for me to the night,
E'en if your heart has now forgot me quite;
For I, so far away, must needs believe.
Then, in my darkness, I shall see a light,
Your love for me—and I shall cease to grieve.

Germs Preferred.
Though they affirm
A deadly germ
Lurks in the sweetest kiss
Let's hope the day
Is far away
Of antiseptic bliss.
To sterilize
A lady's sighs
Would simply be outrageous—
I'd much prefer
To humor her
And let her be contagious.

Backwardness of the Season Alarms Wisconsin Tillers of the Soil.
Madison, Wis., April 22.—George McKerrrow, state superintendent of farm institutes and president of the state board of agriculture, said the unusual backwardness of the present season is alarming the farmers of the state, and if it continues much longer will cost them thousands of dollars in crop losses and delayed work. During the last thirty-five years, he says, only three seasons have been as backward in Wisconsin as the present one. The alternate freezing and thawing has already caused much damage to grasses and winter grains. The farmers of the southern part of the state are getting short of hay and other coarse foods for live stock, despite their large supplies last season, and unless grass comes soon some stock is likely to suffer.

YOUR PROTECTION IS OUR GAIN

O you believe that we can afford to sell you something you don't want or that will not give you satisfaction? Our business depends on pleased customers. In fact any business does. Therefore we would take an enormous risk did we not fulfill every promise made in the columns of this newspaper.

With this point in mind—let us ask what risk you take in buying Rexall Mucu-Tone when we say we will give back your money if the remedy doesn't give satisfaction.

If we didn't believe that 98 per cent. of all who have taken Mucu-Tone have been benefited, we would not publish this advertisement.

There are any number of people right here at home who will gladly testify to Mucu-Tone's wonderful virtues, and if you call we'll gladly refer you to them. Read what Mr. Matt. Dillon writes:

"My little girl had catarrh so badly that the disease had begun to eat into the cartilage of the nose. Snuffs and, instruments failed to do more than give temporary relief. I saw the advertisements of Mucu-Tone, but I could not believe that anything taken in the stomach could cure the sore membranes of the nose. However, I took advantage of your free trial offer and my girl began taking your remedy according to directions. I want to say right here that Mucu-Tone is certainly the greatest medical discovery of the times, and to thank you for the liberal offer that first induced me to give it a trial. Mucu-Tone has cured my daughter's catarrh completely. The discharge has stopped altogether and her breath is as sweet as can be. Again thanking you,
MATT. DILLON, 24 N. Swans St., Albany, N. Y."

If you suffer from any of the following symptoms, we know that Mucu-Tone will immediately cure you. If it doesn't it's our loss, not yours.

Run down—can't work—feel constantly tired—have no appetite—or if you suffer from sore lungs, weakness, nervousness, pains in the stomach or back, then it is that you need Rexall Mucu-Tone.

Catarrh is not confined to the nose and throat. It may start there, but it leads to more serious trouble, particularly to the wasting away of tissues, which means a loss in weight. One bottle of Mucu-Tone will start you on the right road. It will put flesh on your bones and bring new vitality to your system.

Sold only at our store. Large bottle, 89 cents.

DROP ALL GAMES WITH MADISON NOW

Athletic Relations Between University and Beloit College Will Be Severed After Saturday.

Because of the shabby treatment afforded the Beloit baseball players at Madison last Saturday, all athletic relations with the Madison institution will be severed after the baseball game in this city tomorrow. The board of control of the college has notified the athletic department of the university to this effect, says the Beloit Free Press.

This announcement will be a great surprise to the students and citizens generally, but it has for some time been under consideration by the board. For years, the Madison management and people have shown a discourteous spirit towards Beloit athletes whenever they have gone to the Capital city, but the treatment last Saturday was by far the worst yet experienced. Unfair financial tactics were resorted to and Beloit was the loser. There was a good sized crowd in attendance at the game, but they almost all came in on passenger or hotel of some sort and when the Beloit team returned home, the manager found he was out of pocket.

This treatment of Beloit has been customary for several years and the college has been patient with the overbearing attitude of the varsity. When football games were played in Milwaukee, the university did just about as it pleased and Beloit had to take what was offered. Then a baseball game was played in Madison on Woodman day a few years ago which is specially remembered as a farce. There were several hundred people present but Beloit received only a few dollars as her share of the gate money.

At a meeting of the board of control last night the situation was talked over at considerable length and finally after almost every man present had related some discourteous act which he himself had experienced it was voted to sever all relations. Prof. Wallace, head of the athletic department, has sent notice to the university board. The game tomorrow will, therefore, likely be the last unless some conciliatory action is taken at Madison.

KILPATRICK IS MAN NOW BLAMED

Graduate Manager of the University Athletics the Cause of Athletic Break.

(Special to The Gazette.) Madison, Wis., April 22.—The decision by the Beloit college athletic authorities to sever relations with the University of Wisconsin has caused a storm to break about the head of Graduate Manager Charles H. Kilpatrick. The board of directors of the Wisconsin athletic association is opposed to the management of Kilpatrick and his $1,000-a-year contract as manager, which expires in June, will doubtless be discontinued. He holds in addition to this a contract for $800 a year, which runs for another year, but if he fails to have his manager contract renewed he will probably resign from the minor arrangement. Beloit and Wisconsin have for generations been spirited rivals in athletics, but the best of relations have existed. Both institutions are backers and Beloit has rooted consistently for Wisconsin in the intercollegiate contests. The line city college has been of great value to the university in furnishing competition in the training of the various teams and the action of the Beloit management in severing relations, caused as is alleged by Beloit by unfair financial treatment by Kilpatrick is taken with extreme unkindness at Madison. The facts are understood to be the desire of the varsity manager to "skin" Beloit in the money end so as to swell the coffers of the university teams and thus help to make a financial showing for the graduate manager in the present time of financial stress at Madison. Upon receipt of the letter from Beloit Manager Kilpatrick hastened to the line city to "sweeten-up" things there, knowing how the matter was received at home. Assistant Manager George R. Keachie said the trouble arose at the recent baseball game, because the umpire favored Wisconsin. This explanation, however, has nothing to say to the charge of financial unfairness.

OLD FRIENDS DINED WITH COL. KIMBERLY

And Enjoyed a Social Evening on the Occasion of His Sixty-Fourth Birthday.

In honor of their host's sixty-fourth birthday anniversary fifteen friends of Col. E. O. Kimberly assembled at his South Main street home last evening. The residence was tastefully decorated in red—the old Third regiment color—and a profusion of American Beauty roses, red carnations and salix were used with pleasing effect. At six the guests sat down to a delicious chicken pie supper at the conclusion of which Mrs. Kimberly read letters of regret from six members of the Third who were unable to be present. A musical program followed. Miss Carrie Spalding of Broadhead played several piano solos and acted as accompanist to Col. E. O. Kimberly during the rendition of several solos. Mrs. Fannie Munger gave a number of enjoyable readings and congratulatory remarks were made by L. E. Henry, St. G. Palmer, E. G. Harlow, and others. Besides the host there were three members of the regiment and band present: B. M. Bucklin, J. F. Carle, and Mr. Spalding of Broadhead. Col. Kimberly was presented with a number of handsome gifts. A most enjoyable evening was passed by all present.

NEWS OF THE CHICAGO MARKETS

Interesting Gossip Concerning the Closing Reports of the Windy City's Mart.

Wheat.—Liquidation in May wheat started the local crowd to selling July today and considerable weakness developed. The decline was checked by the buying by shorts and a small reaction occurred, but the wheat continued to come out all day and a big short interest was accumulated. News was against the price. There were good rains in the west, especially Oklahoma. There was improvement in cash business. Cables were lower and Argentine shipments were large.

Corn.—Market was weak partly in sympathy with wheat and partly owing to selling by Valentine of both May and July. There was a little firmness early but when wheat declined the liquidation in wheat set and on downward turn it carried July and September with it. About the only support came from shorts and majority of them were disposed to wait for the larger profits. Cables were easy and Argentine shipments only fair.

Oats.—Local people hammered oats and the market was a weak one with best selling in the more distant deliveries. There was about the same kind of support as in corn, and the buying was by shorts but not on a large scale. Market labors under the influence of wheat and corn weakness.

Provisions.—There was but little feature in market. Prices ruled easier in sympathy with wheat and corn and on a larger run of hogs than expected. Condition of market was practically same as for week past.

MARCHED OUT IN SIXTY SECONDS

Beloit Public Schools Held a Fire Drill for the Board of Education.

Members of the school board visited Strong and Wright schools of Beloit Thursday afternoon and witnessed a fire drill at each place and were highly gratified at the results. Every person, 550 in number, was out of Strong school in sixty seconds, and the top floor was emptied in forty seconds.

At Wright school the building was emptied in sixty-five seconds. The alarms were a surprise to all but the principals of the two schools, and the conduct of the teachers and pupils was as though the alarm was for "cause." When the three rings on the oom bells were heard, the "fire brigade," consisting of the larger boys of the school, sprang to certain doors and opened them; at the same time the aisle captains marshaled their forces and the pupils, cautioned by their teachers to be steady and keep in order, hurried out of the building.

The same drill was carried out at the Wright school, but the pupils did not move quite as rapidly as did those in the Strong school. The exhibition shows what can be expected in the schools in case of a fire.

PERCENTE TO BOX WITH BILLY MASON

Local Barber is Slated for a Six Round "Go" with Chicago Pugilist on the 23rd.

The twenty-third of next month has been fixed as the date for the boxing exhibition at the Myers theatre. Joe Percente of Chicago, who has been in the city the past week has arranged to meet "Billy" Mason of Janesville in a six round "go" that evening. At least two preliminaries will be provided and the participants will doubtless be local talent. Percente says he will meet Neary of Milwaukee here later in the year.
